Born in Western Massachusetts, Jude Abbe has been creating art since she was young, concentrating on impressionist oil painting and studying the effects of light and shadow.

A Plein Air painter who studied with Roger Curtis for several years, she is also an elected member of the Rockport Art Association & Museum, North Shore Arts Association and Lyme Art Association to name a few.

Jude has a variety of interests and likes to explore new subjects to paint such as the recent Women's March Boston 2017.

Other subjects include, landscapes, portraits, and still life.
