Holly Anderson Popeo is an artist living in North Reading, Massachusetts. She attended Massachusetts College of Art and Design earning a BFA in Graphic Design. After graduating she worked as a graphic designer in Boston. Later she worked for herself and for interior decorators painting murals and tromps l'oeil.

Painting has always been Holly's first love and she now devotes all of her creative time to painting. She prefers to paint en plein air painting landscapes and flowers. She exhibits locally and sells through her website.

Holly is a member of the Newburyport Art Association.
